EUROP ASSISTANCE OFFERS VENTILATORS TO SUPPORT THE HEALTH SERVICES DURING THE COVID-19 CRISIS

Europ Assistance has made 12 ventilators to public health services in France, Italy and Spain to help support the efforts to during this ongoing COVID-19 emergency.

In Italy, the donation was made to AREU Lombardia, the emergency medical response unit in the most hit region. In France, ventilators were made available to an intensive care unit in the Ile-de-France region. While in Spain to the Getafe hospital in the Madrid Autonomous Community.

This contribution should support health services for patients in critical need of intensive care.

Antoine Parisi, Europ Assistance Group CEO : “Helping people in emergency situations is our DNA. Europ Assistance’s 371 doctors, nurses and health professionals all around the world together with all our people are fully focused on helping our customers and the society. We decided to offer our stock of ventilators (life support respirators), that we usually use in our medical repatriations, available to health services in Paris, Milan and Madrid. We hope that by doing this we will contribute to saving a few more lives.”
